TR7 Floor

Description

Where it all began. The TR7 is one of the first lamps that Tom Rossau developed, in his continued strive for sculptural illumination.

With the familiar birch wood, the lamp draws nature inside, bringing an exquisite warmth to all interiors. The TR7 floor lamp illuminates the room with a soft and evocative glow from the hidden light source.

The slim shape of this lamp is ideal for corner placement, which has made it a true winner for architects and interior designers alike. The closed shade of the TR7 encapsulates the light sources and provides an indirect light independent from the choice of the material. The TR7 lamps have a sculptural and organic expression, as much when unlit as when they radiate light.

The TR7 is also available as a table and pendant light.
